CONDITION OF THE MARKETS

Prices Are Unsettled, but the Fluctuations Are Neither Sudden Nor Violent.

Light Trading in Wheat, with a Firm Feeling at the Close-Corn Opens Weak, but Speedily Rallies-Lard Active and Higher.

MONEY, BONDS AND STOCKS.

A Very Dull Day, Though Business Was More Active than at Any Time This Week. NEW YORK, June 5 .- Money on call was easy at 1 per cent. Prime mercantile paper, 4 &6 per cent.

Sterling exchange was dull but steady at $4.86\ for sixty-day bills and $4.88\ for demand. The total sales of stocks to-day were 190,306 shares, including the following: Erie, 3,800; Lake Shore, 7,460; Louisville & Nashville, 4,000; Missouri Pacific, 5,775; Northwestern, 4,550; Northern Pacific preferred, 5,604; Reading, 49,625; St. Paul, 55,215; Union Pacific, 13,300;

Western Union, 2,660. Stocks were very dull, though more animation was shown than during the last two days. The market was weaker, however, and the gains of yesterday were generally lost. St. Paul was the center of attraction; the stock was active though, decidedly weak throughout, and the preferred led the decline. Its loss at the lowest point was over 3 per cent. on account of rumors of trouble among the directors, who were said to be selling preferred. The opening of the market was generally strong at an advance of 1, the latter for Northern Pacific. Some stocks were bullish, and further fractional gains were made in the early dealings, but the advance was checked at the end of a half hour. A declining tendency quickly appeared, which St. Paul developed exceedingly, and the lowest prices were reached at 2 P. M. A better tone prevailed at that time, but the recoveries were very slight. The market closed dull and barely steady at fractional losses. Pullman, however, advanced 14. St. Paul common lost 14 and preferred 24. Railroad bonds were more active; sales, $1,265,-000, of which $136,000 were Texas Pacific. The market closed irregular.

Government bonds were dull and barely steady. State bonds were neglected. Closing

CHICAGO, June 5.- The wheat market was somewhat unsettled to-day, but the violent fluctuations of last week were not seen. Opening prices were under those of Saturday and better than those indicated on the curb yesterday. There was light outside trading, and the chque made no bold moves and the crowd had nothing to follow. July opened at 841 2841c, sold at 841c and up to 841c. When those who had started the market attempted to buy wheat beadvanced to in short order, and closing prices were very near the best for the day and a shade better than the close on Saturday. July was at 84je. The corn crowd was surprised to-day by the way the corn kept coming. On this there was some weakness early, from which there was a sharp rally; then there was some selling by many, apparently with the object of pounding the market. These tactics worked the price of July le under the top price of the merning. A leading operator was a persistent buyer early, and but for him prices would no doubt have gone down uninterruptedly from the opening. Closing prices were ic higher than the lowest for the session. July ranged at 541 255ic, closing at 542 254i. Oats after 1 o'clock close were about steady and regular. July, at 3 o'clock, closing at 33 c. The feature in the provision were slow but steady, and closed 74c higher for short ribs and 10c on pork. July pork sold at $14.124 a 14.25, where it closed. July short ribs 7.60 $7.65c, and closed at 7.62 a. The leading futures ranged as follows:

INDIANAPOLIS MARKETS.

Trade Improving with the Fine Weather, Money Easy. INDIANAPOLIS, June 5 ...

In most departments there has been a decided improvement in trade the last two or three days and with this in most lines prices rule firm and unchanged. Receipts of wool the last day or two have increased largely, and unless the clip is well washed and clean it will not bring our best quotation. The dry goods market is fairly active. There were a number of buyers and they made quite respectable bills. Mail orders, although quite small in amount called for. were numerous. Grocers had a busy day. Sugars and coffees both firm at quotations; in fact all staple groceries rule firm in tone, and on several articles there is an upward tendency. Hardware men are having an excellent trade. There is one feature of their business which is growing rapidly. The wire-nail trade has shown an activity beyond all former seasons. A strong demand in this line for cigar-box nails, brads and finishing nails is reported by dealers, and no perceptible decline has yet appeared. But the increased demand for wire nails has been to a large extent at the expense of cut nails, the trade in which has been far from lucrative to manufacturers during the past year. If the cut-nail manufacturers do not soon accomplish their proposed plans for a trust or syndicate they will soon be compelled to shut up shop, as the margin of profit has been about obliterated. The demand for barbed wire has been good this season, but this, like the wire nail, has seriously affected the cut-nail trade. Hardware dealers report a continued falling off in demand for the iron nail. The steel article has evidently gained the field, and iron for nails has become a thing of the past, so far as trade here is concerned. It is now about as certain as anything future can be that the nail mills everywhere will be forced to provide for the steel production in order to keep in line with industrial progress. The produce markets were active to-day, receipts of eggs increasing and prices breaking. Butter is in large supply and prices weak at the range given, poultry, as well, coming in freely, with prices weak. Early vegetables are in better supply than at any time this season, and prices are dropping to figures which increase the demand. Strawberries more plenty, and prices steady at the very reasonable quotations. Black and red raspberries are on sale. Gooseberries are already a drug on the market. There are a few half-ripe currants coming in and selling at the best price they will command. Several changes will be noticed in the seed market in the way of adjustment to the season. The seed men have had a remarkably prosperous Conveyances, 15; consideration.....$12,300.00 Objections to the Keeping of Sheep.

Philadelphia Record. The advantages of raising sheep are overlooked in many cases because of a few difficulties in the way; but a comparison of the benefits to be derived from sheep with the disadvantages arising will show that the faults are due more to the mode of management than to the sheep. Among the objections to keeping sheep are that they graze too close to the ground, thereby killing the grass; that they are subject to loss from dogs; that they are liable to foot-rot and other diseases and that the best breeds demand too much care. The first objection, that of grazing close, is really an advantage, for it permits of utilizing the sheep on fields that would afford no sustenance to other stock, and enables the farmer to keep a flock of sheep where the close grazing by the sheep that allows of their use on poer soils, which they enrich with their droppings, thereby making possible a profit when such lands are devoted to crops. The objection that dogs destroy sheep is true, but no farmer should keep sheep except under conditions that fully protect them from all kinds of depredators. To send a flock of sheep out to roam at will, subject not only to dogs but to all kinds of insects, as well as to storms, is not a systematic mode of keeping sheep. They are entitled to the same care and consideration that are bestowed on other stock. The foot-rot and other diseases are often due to improper conditions. Sheep, if kept exclusively on damp locations, will be subject to foot-rot, and other animals, if kept in the same manner, will be subject to diseases also. That the objection to sheep on account of the best mutton breeds demanding extra care and attention is true is admitted, but that such sheep give a good return for the care bestowed is also true. While there may be little or no profit from the common flocks that are turned on the hillside with no care, it has been demonstrated that the improved breeds will yield a large profit after paving for extra labor and food. The improved sheep will often weigh 300 pounds each, while the native sheep is not up to 100 pounds, and in value the difference of 200 pounds is far in excess of the cost. There is also a profit in another direction, which is very important, yet frequently overlooked—the improvement of the soil. When sheep are allowed to forage over a large area the manure is too widely scattered, but when the flock is confined to a limited space, and changed to new locations, the droppings become of great value, and no objections to sheep can overcome the benefit derived in that way.

Farm Notes. It never injures a tree or vine to cut out the dead wood at any season of the year. To get rid of ants in the lawn a correspondent of the Ploughman says: "As soon as you disnest, throwing the loam to one side. When you get to the bottom cover with coarse salt, two inches or more, fill in the loam, and you will be troubled no more." English and French heavy draft horses are still being imported in large numbers, and are being introduced into all sections. The result of the importations of the past ten years has been to largely increase the size of farm horses. A cross of the imported horses on our native mares produces a farm horse well adapted for nearly all purposes. Vick's Magazine: The most economical and advantageous way of applying liquid manure to all plants in pots is to make the soil and roots wet with clean water first, and then water with liquid, as the moist soil retains all the best properties of the manure, and this is the point to secure. This rule also holds good in the case of fruit trees of all kinds, and vegetables as

A correspondent of the Country Gentleman says: I have used a simple remedy for a long time, one that I have never seen mentioned. It is simply to put kerosene oil in the water, once in a while, not too much at's time-a person would have to use judgement about quantity. As soon as I notice a chicken, large or small, gaping, I gave a dose in water. They do not seem to notice it. I have never lost any from
